THE TRIAD SOCIETY.

The recent proclamation of the Government prohibiting the export of arms from the Colony has excited some discussion. The proclamation was issued at the request of the Governor of the Two Kwang, made, presumably, in consequence of the rising in Wenchow. The Duke of Aomori, expressed the opinion that the Government of the Two Kwang had taken this kind rule was everywhere and always applicable, and there are not a few who hold some opinion regarding insurrections against the Manchu rule in China. As soon news of the rising was received a hue and cry in the breasts of a good many persons in the Colony was excited, and the management of a movement that should succeed in importance the Taiping rebellion, and which should be attended with successful results. In order to carry out the proclamation cutting off the supplies from this Colony was deemed the best plan. Hence it was impossible that the Government of Hongkong should allow its supplies from this Colony. What termination of the rising may be it is impossible to say. The Taiping rebellion arose on a similar small beginning. The probability is, however, that it will end with the speedy annihilation of the insurgents. It has indeed, already been reported that the rebellion is at an end, but this news lacks confirmation. As to the character of the disturbances, it was at first stated that the persons who had taken up arms against the authorities were simply a strong band of desperadoes. Hence it was thought that the movement had its origin in a desire with reference to the collection of taxes to be excessive in amount. However it may be, the rising seems to have the sympathy if not the active support of the ad Society.

On bearing on the action of the local authorities in this matter, however, it may be useful to recall the fact that at one time the whole of the Triade were declared outlawed in this Colony. Ordinance No. 1 of 1845 provides that "if any person being of Chinese origin in the said island or its dependencies shall be a member of the Triad Society or other Secret Societies, he is affirmed to be a felon, and thereupon he is guilty of felony, and being duly convicted shall be liable to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three years with or without hard labour." This very stringent enactment was in the same year modified by Ordinance 12 of 1845, which provided that "no person shall be considered as coming within the scope of the above-mentioned Ordinance No. 1 of 1845 who shall have joined the Triad Society in ignorance of its designs, or under the influence of error, or who shall not be duly convicted of active participation in some unlawful transaction out of his connection with the Society." The first mentioned Ordinance was repealed in 1861, and since that time it was reported that the Triad Society had been made the head-quarters of robbery, murder and robbery were rife in the island, and the foreign residents were continually advised to carry arms and not to go far from the town. One of Mr. Gifford's sonnets is entitled "The Triad Society," and is prefaced with the following explanatory note:—"This cavern, saturnally situated, has now disappeared like the utilitarian demand for granite. It is the lozenge chosen report of the members of the infamous Sam-hop-woi or the Triad Society." The sonnet contains the following lines:

Deep in the grimaces and dark from man,
The robber hordes, oft bound to mutual aid,
World pass foul murder and inspiring raid,
For midnight murder and inspiring raid,
It was the opinion entertained of the Government in the early days of the colony, and the Government having, by its legislation referred to, adopted that view, it did not regard with indifference, much less with friendship, any movement in which they were interested.

It does not detract the character which has been given to it. Its friends in the present day say its object is simply the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty and the restoration of the Ming, that it is friendly to foreigners, and that so far from encouraging treachery, in general its aims, apart from the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty, are of a patriotic character.

Society dates from the early part of the present age, and its name is taken from the sacred union of heaven, earth, and man, giving it the better character claimed for it, the fact nevertheless remains that the secret political societies must necessarily always be looked upon with suspicion by any Government, and that the Triad Society of the present Government of China, the Government of Hongkong is bound to discountenance in every possible way as long as Hongland remains in friendly relations with China. The argument that the Chinese are ill-posed towards us, whereas we are ill-posed towards them, is a weak one. As we give the hand of friendship to China so long as it is impossible that we should secretly encourage any attempt to overthrow the Government of the country, and in the event of a widespread insurrection in the Government of China, the Government of Hongkong is bound to discountenance in every possible way as long as Hongland remains in friendly relations with China. was received. The Hongkong Civilian Athletic Sports were held on the 15th and attracted a very large concourse of spectators. The Hongkong School Athletic meet on the 17th was also a great success. The raising of the population in the prefecture, in Kwantung, and the visit of Admiral Lyautey to the port of Beinhai by the French on the 12th, also excited a great deal of interest. The United States Consul here has asked the Government to request the Master of the Argentine Catalina with a gold watch and recognition of his humane services to the wrecked crew of the Rivier. The Consul General, Esmer, of Hongkong, on the 17th inst., has gone to the relief of the shipwreck of the Rivier on the Marshall Islands.

The Argentine Catalina, which left here for Manila on Saturday, the 15th inst., got on an island some distance beyond Fatoe as she sought a small hole in her bottom for water, made water, filling the fore compartment, and the soldiers on board were made water. She sent a small boat back on Saturday night, and the next day she got assistance when the tide was down, and here in safety on Sunday.

The following telegram has been received by the Secretary of this Colony from the Secretary of Queensland:—"11th March. The Government Chinese Immigration Act will be provided and provided with greater number Chinese proportion fifty tons register subject penalty pounds each Chinese in excess. Further extension of thirty pounds not repayable of ten years of the next meeting in Colony. Act takes effect tenth April. Publish." "Colonial Secretary," "Queensland."

Commander of the French Squadron Admiral Lespès, arrived here after a look up, on the 7th inst. in his flagship Condore. On the 10th instant Admiral Lespès, the commandant of the French Squadron, arrived at Hongkong, and on arrival at Toulon, Europe. These waters Admiral Meyer and Captain Lespès have been the most popular here, and their well known names are greatly prized at the social gatherings, which take place, always been such water.

Wai Kung, convicted of the late assassin's plot, Messrs. Fincham, and robbery, received his first instalment of shipwreck on the 13th inst. From the assassin committed and the ruffian's name in the dock and on the next morning to be a man of great determination, who would have borne his punishment and would have borne, and without many sound of pain. Such is the case, however, for under the many signs of cowardice before the case was commenced, and when the warden to the task of flogging him commenced his resistance, he made a great effort, yelling and howling. Before he had been six months he will receive two other lashings each.

The Argentine Catalina was held on board H.M.S. Argentine on the 17th inst. to investigate the charges against Gunner Henry Bentley, of the Argentine, the first of striking his superior, and the second of assisting an escort to escape from the ship. The Argentine was ordered to be about as follows:—The disagreement in the Mess Room with Mr. McClellan, whom he struck, and of an escort, he resisted doing what he was commanded, and when force was applied, he took him out and struggled violently, and language, until he was thrown, after which he put in a most obstinate resistance. He was the aggressor by purposely striking his toes, abusing him, and aggravating him, so that he had to be taken to strike. He tried to reach Gunglofiao, but he was so badly hurt that he had to be carried. He had no idea of the nature of the escort, but was willing to go where he was commanded. He was convicted and sentenced to a year's imprisonment with hard labor, and dismissal from the service.

Thursday afternoon, the 8th instant, some 100 Chinese were taken away by the authorities in the Ty-ee-mun Pass, and their intention becoming pretty widely known, a large number of residents gathered to prevent the removal of the Chinese, and a number of launches proceeded to the spot, and persons went to Shaukiwan by road, reached the hills overlooking the pass, and the Chinese, fully alive to the fact that they were about to be removed, were there out in aboals of sampans, scowry on the water, and many of them armed with big nets for disabled devious purposes. His Excellency the Governor and the General, Sir James Douglas, and Mr. J. M. Duwell, the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. Mr. G. A. S. Smith, the Hon. Mr. J. M. Duwell, and many other leading members of the community were amongst those who accompanied the Governor. The police kept the front ranks clear, and after these other elements had passed, the commotion was felt like two heavy blows on the bottom of the boat, followed a moment later by the roar of explosion. The water was raised in about 25 fathoms water near the shore of the pass, and its effects on the rocks were therefore not nearly so marked as it was on the smaller explosion in shallower water. No great column of smoke or of water was seen, and the water was upheaved in great masses as it was rising up out of some subterranean cavern. Some of us were on the shore at the time, and the water was so high that we were of course unable to see the shore state they felt the ground tremble as if from some great earthquake. The water was quite turbid, the mud having been stirred up, and the explosion was so small that it was not felt in the smaller mine closer inshore, and in the water, and when the electric current was put on, the charge about half an hour later, the water and rock were again upheaved, and the water was quite turbid.
